

I am writing to let you know I don't think that LPFM stations should be given priority over current FM translator services. I am able to listen to national programs on the radio. I know that many of them can be listened to on the internet but that ties up my phone line and costs extra money time overages on minutes for the month. I would probably lose the signal to AIR 1 which plays music that can't be heard locally. I think it gives the community a larger option in music and benefits many people with the message it plays. Thank you for your time.
